The path Pambu is taking, from microfilm to megabytes

PARBICA conference, Auckland, NZ, 7-9 September 2015

By Kylie Moloney

Executive Officer

Pacific Manuscripts Bureau

The aim of PMB

To preserve and improve access to the documentary heritage of the Pacific Islands

What the PMB does

- Arrange, lists and copies archives
- Provide access
- Provide support to researchers
- Supports archives and libraries in the Pacific Islands

Why?

Archives are often in vulnerable conditions out in the islands

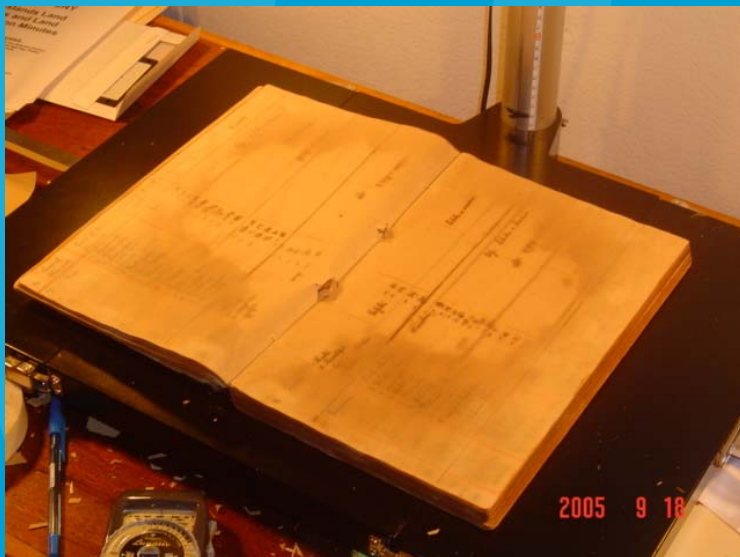

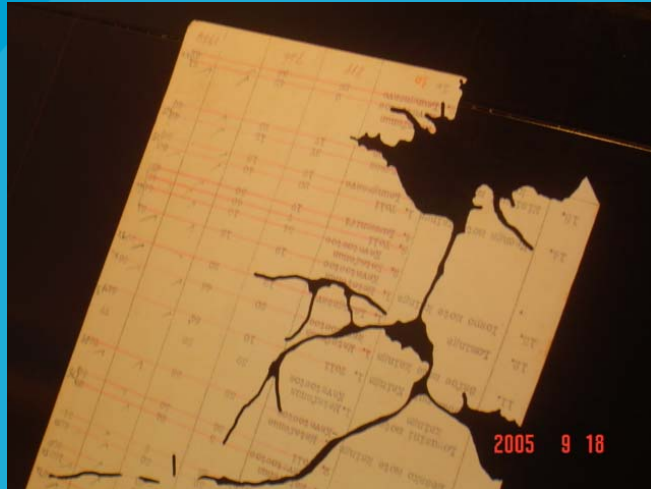

- Cyclones, tsunamis
- Mould, pests
- Political instability
- Few resources

Scholars, students and researchers of all kinds use archives for their work

Church of Melanesia archives in Santo, Vanuatu, 2012

Vulnerable documents

The Bureau's collection

Over 4000 reels of microfilm

Reels in PMB Ms. Series by Content

Microfilming in the islands

Microfilming in the islands

Microfilming Church of Melanesia records with Bishop Terry Brown in Ambae (2009) and Santo (2011).

Why re-invent the Bureau in a digital environment?

Increasing the visibility and accessibility of Pacific Island archives

Communities are asking for digital

Digital offers a balance of access and rights management as well secure delivery to member libraries

Ease of use

From microfilm to megabytes

Over 4000 reels of microfilm

Some of the Bureau's master negative microfilms in a climate controlled conditions Pascoe's in Sydney

Moving from microfilm to digital – the story

Bulk uploading to ICA-Atom

Excel spreadsheet showing data for bulk uploading to ICA-Atom. The spreadsheet is titled "PMB 1414 ICAAtom CSVfinal - Excel".

The data is organized in columns A through O, with the following headers:

- A: legacyId
- B: parentId
- C: qubitParentId
- D: identifier
- E: title
- F: creators
- G: creatorHistories
- H: creatorDate
- I: creatorDate
- J: creatorDate
- K: creatorDate
- L: levelOfDetail
- M: extentAncient
- N: repository
- O: archivalHierarchy

The data rows (1-36) show a series of "National news bulletins" from the Solomon Islands Broadcasting Commission, spanning from 1980 to 1982. Each row includes a unique legacyId, a parentId, and a title describing the bulletin. The creator is consistently "Solomon Islands Broadcasting Commission". The creatorDate is listed for each month from January to October for each year. The levelOfDetail is "Item", and the extentAncient is "Digital scanned from original". The repository is "Pacific Manuscripts Bu".

The history of the Suikano Kubolu

The Suikatakalana called Mouga o Toqa had numerous children.

One son was called Fotofili, another Gata. Another, Hala Kitana (the origin of the first Nukun). Another, Vaoloa, (the origin of Kiki Kabu). These were some of the children of Mouga o Toqa.

After a time a part of Tonga called Kanokubolu which belonged to Mouga o Toqa was without a local chief and Mouga o Toqa ordered his son Gata to go there and be the local chief or "Tui", and he did so. Kanokubolu is in Hihifo, but Gata was only to rule over Kanokubolu, and not over the whole of Hihifo.

Gata was succeeded by his son Atamataila who " " " " Mataele Tuabiko.

" " " " " Mataele Haamea
From this time his line increased in rank & power but all the Suikano Kubolu subordinated themselves to the Suikatakalana who again were subordinate to the Suitoga, the Sacred Kings, who ruled over all the islands of Tonga, and whose dominions included Niua and Niua, Uvea, & Futuna.

Mataele Haamea was succeeded by his son Maafu o Suitoga, who was succeeded by his son Tubou Lahi, who was succeeded by his brother (same father & mother) Macalinski.

Tubou Lahi had a son called Suihala fatai but he did not become Suikano Kubolu; but the son of Suihala fatai, named also Tubou Lahi after his grandfather became Tui Kanokubolu.

He was succeeded by Mumi, half-brother to the first Tubou Lahi; and Mumi was succeeded by his son Tukuahe. Tukuahe ruled over the whole Tongan group including Haabai & Vavan, but tributary to the Suitoga whose dominions included Niua, Uvea, & Futuna.

Welcome to the Pacific Manuscripts Bureau catalogue

The Pacific Manuscripts Bureau copies archives, manuscripts and rare printed material relating to the Pacific Islands. The aim of the Bureau is to help with long-term preservation of the documentary heritage of the Pacific Islands and to make it accessible.

The Pacific Manuscripts Bureau collection is the most extensive collection of non-government primary documentation on the Pacific Islands available to researchers.

Pacific Manuscripts Bureau titles can be located at any of the PMB member libraries or by contacting the Bureau: pambu@anu.edu.au
